It's time to realize
People have gone their separate ways
Years have passed now
And things just aren't the same

I can think of a time when I was free
Never listened to the ones who said
"Hold on and face reality"

And it's bringing me down to see what's all around
And I can't even tell but this life don't seem or feel so well
And it's true that everything can't turn for you
It's all untrue

So time has given up
And your hope was never enough
Think back sometime, your dream's not mine

And I still miss the time
When I believed I'd never leave
It would be so right
It would be so right

And it's bringing me down to see what's all around
And I can't even tell but this life don't seem or feel so
well
And it's true that everything can't turn for you
It's all untrue, we've been in you

It's not wrong, it's not right
You took your's and you took mine
Everything you loved you left behind
What's your's is never mine

It's not wrong, it's not right
You took your's and you took mine
It's not wrong, it's not right
Everything you loved you left behind

It's not wrong, it's not right
You took your's and you took mine

Everything you loved you left behind
What's your's is never mine
