

Corinne Hermes "Words Of Love"

Visit "Words Of Love" on MotoLyrics.com

You, you were the one, you were my world.
You were the moon, the stars, the sun.
I, I never knew there would be tears
Until the day you said we're through.
One by one, everything died.
How do you stop yourself from breaking up inside?
We had dreams, so many plans.
We had it all and more, we had it in our hands
And we had words of love.

Words of love, tender and true.
They were the wall I built around my life with you.
Words of love we used to share.
One day, you're part of us and then, no longer there
And we had words of love.

Now, nothing is real, only the pain that even time can never heal.
One by one, everything's gone.
There are so many ways to hurt where we come from.
You and I, where did it go?
We had so much to give, the dreams started to grow
And we had words of love.

Words of love, tender and true.
They were the wall I built around my life with you.
Words of love we used to share.
One day, you're part of us and then, no longer there
And we had words of love, words of love, tender and true.

Visit Corinne Hermes page on MotoLyrics.com, to get more lyrics and videos.