My childhood was hood. Shit was real My father was evil. He was killed already When he came here from isreal Leaving us scared with a stare untill it transformed into me. Puttin fear into my peers that's when the man formed
In the projects, we used to beef with each other 'cause our fuckin parents were too ignorant to each us better
I had thoughts on my mind of killing someone at nine
