V1.

I went to an ATM one sunny day
I went to a hole in the wall
But to my surprise my card was denied
For no justified reason at all
Of course that was just the beginning
The worst of it still to be seen
Boy I wish I'd listened to the Resistance
Now they're Microchipping Me

V2.

I called my accountant to make an appointment
To sort out my finance somehow
But what I was told made my blood run cold
Your savings can't save you now
It's easy to see now in hindsight
Why they brought down our economy
Boy I wish I'd listened to the Resistance
Now they're Microchipping Me

V3.

I flew to the United States I confess
I saw the American Way
As soon as I landed officials demanded
A sample of my DNA
And without second thought I provided
My genetic identity
Boy I wish I'd listened to the Resistance
Now they're Microchipping Me

V4.

Too late to escape now I've nowhere to go
They'll find me wherever I flee
With pin-point precision their satellite system
Will locate the chip inside me
By sheepish obedience blinded
They sure pulled the wool over me
Boy I wish I'd listened to the Resistance
Now they're Microchipping Me

V5.

Now this isn't fiction, this isn't a joke

Wake up and realize the truth
Their sinister pyramid scheme is a fix
The many controlled by the few
And to them we are no more than cattle
That's why it's the mark of the beast
Lord I wish I'd listened to the Resistance

NOW THAT THEY'VE MICRO-CHIPPED
