"The Cross Burns Black"

hatred deep inside
cities collapse
our nation collides
war within
army of damnation
holocaustic winds
spread contagion
as the flame rises
bodies turn to ash
trophy corpses of the fallen
extermination with no remorse a thousand lakes of red pathetic human atrocities now buried with the dead
blood of traitors
stains my face
burning all that was then slaughtering their stillborn race as the morals of mankind are reduced to nothing
the lords of chaos shall rise and burn images of horror into the minds and feeble bodies of all those unpure honor and pride shall be restored purity through war
emerging from shadows
new life is born
the past is set right
