"Boys Around Here"

These mighty eyes, looked at me with no intention.
They hit me twice, at first glance and then a second time.

She said to me, "That shit you say can really hurt me."
I wrote this note, I read it once, I feel like giving up.

The boys around here don't respect a thing, respect a thing at all.
The boys around here don't respect me, don't respect
me at all.

It's been a while, since the night that I first met you.
I've still got dusty shoes, fear of love, fear of losing you.

But I'll be alright, if I could just stay in tonight.
I don't wanna talk, just let me tomorrow we'll give up.

The boys around here don't respect a thing, respect a thing at all.
The boys around here don't respect me, don't respect
me at all. [X6]
