I've seen lots of hearts get hurt
Those three precious little words
Were much too dangerous
For me to ever use
So I wrapped chains around my heart
Built a wall, kept up my guard
The very next thing I knew
Baby, somehow you broke through

CHORUS

I think you know
The combination to my heart
That's how you opened up my arms
And one by one your kisses
Broke down my defenses
I think you know
A secret code, some magic touch
That sets my soul on fire because
I'm in love, gotta tell you so
Girl, even though
I think you know

Never knew quite who I was
'Til the moment that your love
Brought out the best of
The man inside of me
Baby, you unlocked my soul
Felt your passion take control
I still can't believe
The way you set me free
