It starts today. The very day you wake up It starts today. The day you open up your eyes, and you're surprised.
That when you look to your left, she's not there
And you try to find out where she went.

Retrace the steps you took before you got here Rethink the things you said before she went away

It starts today. The day that you put on your shoes, and decided to try.
It starts today. The day you find, yourself.
When looking in the mirror makes your whole life seem so clear you start to wonder.
Will you ever find yourself? Will you ever need the help from someone else again.

And so you retrace the steps you took before you got here
And so you rethink the things you said before she went away

When it's 3am and your eyes won't shut and you're trying to find a way to rest your heart And when you find you find yourself wondering down the streets alone you can't imagine... what it's like to be alone again

You retrace the steps you took before you got here
And you rethink the things you said before you went

I wish I could go back in time
