Doing nothing right, what could I have done tonight to make everything feel so

Wrong

Another nights gone by another dreams gone to the sky

I can't see your big brown eyes through mine anymore
Remember the flowers I picked for you from your best friends back yard

You said you'd never let them die

Another nights gone by another dreams gone to the
sky

I can't see your big brown eyes through mine anymore
Remember the flowers I picked for you from your best
friends back yard

You said that you'd never let them die

And like a rose her love has thorns, thorns that pierce my soul

She said she'd never let them die

Just one thing that you should know this time I let you go

Just one thing that you should know this time I let you

Just one thing that you should know this time I let you
go

I let you go

I let you go

I let you go

I let you go

I let you go

I let you go

I let you go

I let you go

I let you go

I let you go

I let you go

I let you go

I let you go!
