Please take my heart,
I won't need it anyway, it only takes up space.
So rip away my memories,
They take me to a place where I am loved and always warm.
They feed the pain.
Try to, with all your might, to remember happiness,
She's with me in my dreams when I'm asleep she holds
me close,
And everythings okay.
I wish she would just take me now...
Well maybe, I should try and find another..but here it comes again.
I see her eyes, I feel her skin.
Take me back, back in time,
Take me to the places I have known, shall know no more.
Take me in your arms and never let me know the pain
that comes,
When you're all alone
