Dying never seemed so easy
Cause there's nothing left to hold onto
Your hand slipped away as i watched
I watched you fall 40,000 feet into darkness
That's more than you
That's more than me
Remember orange skies, above our heads
You looked like you were on fire
As i watched your halo drop
And your horns begin to shape
Your like the sun to me
Walk alone, unknowingly
And your burning me alive
But i need you to survive
Just let me be an actor in your play
I'll play the part however you want it
The curtain will fall and you'll applaud
At my ability to be someone else
Your the devil in a beautiful disguise
Your like the sun to me
Walk alone, unknowingly
And your burning me alive
But i need you to survive
You hate me
But I don't mind
The pain that
Will take me to hell
I need to be by your side
Take me to hell
Your like the sun to me
Walk alone, unknowingly
And your burning me alive
But i need you to survive
