The sun has set,
The leaves are falling,
The air is cold and my mind is sinking into a state
In which I dream...
Of you.

If tonight is the last night I'll see you,
Then tonight I will be yours,
Everyday after that in the night
I will dream that I'm with you,
And promise I'll never let you go...
Let you go

Weeks have gone by,
Since I have kissed you,
I long to hold you firm in my arms,
And whisper the three most sacred words in the world...

Your mystery casts a spell on me,
I'm a prisoner of a want and need,
I cross the distance,
To feel your touch and grace,
You walk away and I wonder...

Will I see you again...

Never say forever.....
