"Waiting For Blue"

I'd walk away with a suitcase full of dreams
My memories on cassette
Our window of opportunities remains
Painted shut as your ghost heads
To california

This head is heavy
And this weight on my shoulders
Is more than i can bear

Cause if the morning sky arrives
And the birds can't sing a song to make you stay
Wherever we go let this song
Reflect on all we've done

How can you leave
You leave without me
And walk away from all we've done
To california

We grew up faster than you can say
Rock and roll dreams lead nowhere
But if this is where you belong
Then enjoy your stay
