i think this is the hardest song ive ever had to right.
ive never felt so much emotion and this is for that special person.
she knows who she is. i just hope shes listenen. i hope it touches her.

now you know how i feel and i know that youve seen it and everything i have ever said you know that i mean it theres something special between us yea i can just feel it and id do anything just to make you beleive it just to make you retrieve it and let it take flight stop holding onto the pain and let that smile shine bright and they say the way i feels wrong but i know its right because i think about you all day.. dream about you all night.
your everything to me and your everything i need and your everything i want and your everything i see your heavenly to me and nothing is near to the pain of losing you forfilled my deepest fears and i know its my fault for pain you feel inside and i know that the thought of what happenend makes you cry but i will never give up and and i will never stop the tryin
because even tho your gone. my love never dies..

come on now it wasnt all bad weather, youve forgotten all the happy times that we shared together and yea the feeling of what happened still hurts you so much but i still remember the feeling that day when our lips touched and i still remember all the times we would hang out for while and i stared into your eyes youd stare back and we would just smile.
and we would just giggle and laugh then silence would

wishing it could be easier for our love to partake and yea so what everyday everybody would judge but no effect on me because my love would not budge but now it feels as tho my love to you is just a smudge across a single page in your life that your affraid to and i know youve moved on but theres still tears in my eyes and i know i was wrong to lose the best thing in my life but my faith is so strong that i still feel we're alive because even tho your gone. my love never dies..

everyday ill be waiting, untill late on msn hoping your pic will pop up and we can start again and everynight im longing to click on your facebook praying theres a chance in heaven youll give my status

and everyday im searching gazing always staring at you

admiring your perfection, complexion, your beautiful and everynight my phone goes off praying that its you content

but its not so i go back to reading the all the txt you ever sent

And Until the end of time my heart belongs to you i Just wanna let you that I choose you

And until the day that my arms hold onto you i Just wanna let you know that I love you ill never forgive myself for letting you leave my side and i know ive done it before but this ones not a lie and im sorry for me and i hope youll be alright because even when im gone. my love never dies..

special person.

touches her.
