take me away, before I break take me away, before I fade a bridge I've never crossed, a train I've never rode a matter of time, I'll get lost in my soul where does this alley lead? and how can I follow?

I need a place my body can devour

take me away, before I break

the scene is getting old, from today till tomorrow I scrape my hand on the road I try to follow the end is so unclear, the lights are there I feel myself crumble, I keep on crawling take me away, before I break

I fade away, the sun is gone, darkness is my belong I fall to the grace of my wrongs drifting down a road too long, I'm on my knees these are my sins, my hands are out screaming for your reach take me, oh take me away

take me away, before I break
