Thats what they said... you keep on running, from this pilot i surely will descend, is this the truth, dont wanna hear it, these trees they speak they speak the language i cant hear is this the truth, what is life if you cant see, breath, or hear, its a chill look down your face, and knowing that this will never end, its like an angel when its wings are taken away, try to live in the past, you try to live in the past today, the past i will never forget you , the past, i close my eyes and fall asleep, and hope to wake up, to see your face
