Refrain:

Finally Speak your mind
but not behind my back

Come on, bellow me Take it from your head and lose the crown

Make your attack from on high, from your throne It's time to step down

Finally Speak your mind
but not behind my back

Black coal for a change Tables have turned on you, haven't they If Simon sang 'Finally' would you give the time of day, or would you walk away?

Concrete and decay Nature will find a way with or without you Whenever eye to eye you cringe inside reality you can't face what's meant to be Refrain

Final reverie
Melody plays aloud another day
When will you rearrange and speak what's meant to say Don't walk away

Delay is killing me
The truth will come around
with or without you Whenever you find the ground Face to face you'll let me see what you got in mind for me

Refrain

You know it happened once before it can happen once again Will it ever be the same with you when we were friends

You know you always needed more then you ever had again will you ever see what you've landed in.

Refrain
