I've gone and said too much I can't undo.
Not the kind of man to try to hurt you.
It's just too much now for us to get through.

You'll never come back like you always do.
You'll never come back like you always do.
You'll never come back like you always do.

I told my mom that you were hard not to love.
Too much a friend and you were easy to touch.
You were a kind one when I was with you and I

I was lost and I was ill prepared.
To feel the hopelessness of you not there.
Our love was over now; I wasn't over you at all.
I never wanted us to end like this.
The pain I put you through I never meant.
I never meant.
I never meant.

I've gone and said too much I can't undo.
I'm not the kind of man to try to hurt you.
There's just too much now for us to get through.

You'll never come back like you always do.
You'll never come back like you always do.
You'll never come back like you always do.

You said too much.
You said too much.
You said too much.

You said too much now I can't undo (You said too much).
I'm not the kinda man to try to hurt you (You said too much).
There's too much now we can't undo (You said too much).

You'll never come back like you always do.
You'll never come back like you always do.

You'll never come back like you always do.
You'll never come back like you always do.
