Sons and daughters, mothers, fathers gone
Helping wear the fight wish them home tonight
Bloody stories, tell me where you've been
We are here for you we're say our prayers for you
Stand by you you're not alone
So don't you think it's true
We'll never forget
We'll never forget you
Look inside your heart even when apart
We are proud of you it's a dirty job to do
We need you at home back where you belong
So much around us changed and laugh is not the same
Stand by you you're not alone
So don't you think it's true
We'll never forget
We'll never forget you
Big explosion shots ring out
Another loved one falls right down
If you think you're going mad
You are human so don't be sad
Stand by you you're not alone
So don't you think it's true
We'll never forget
We'll never forget you
