It was early in the mornin', I heard a rooster crow for days

It was early in the mornin', I heard a rooster crow for

I looked out my window and saw my baby walk away

I thought "Lord, please stop him, ain't gonna get drunk
no more"

I thought "Lord, please stop him, ain't gonna get drunk
no more"

I hollered out my window, "Come back baby please don't go"

I know he heard me callin', he looked back and waved
his hand

his hand

I could hear him tell his momma, "That's one no good woman!"

Well, I watched my baby leave, his momma had him by the hand

Well, I watched my baby leave, his momma had him by
the hand

I'd give anything I have, just to see my man again
