V1: You set me off, I pulled us in with my clever word.
It should have meant... just a never word.
How could let these word to you ever slur?
Why would I live as if my eyes were plugged?

Surely, you could change; but your violence
aggravates
My morals until a break forms.
Truly I have no want to sacrifice judgment
For vengeance please tell me that I must be wrong.

Vanity could take my heart but break my heart no more.
Guess I have to live my life steady by the door.
Never was the type of guy living just to score.
I find myself wanting to leave when you ask for more.
When you ask for more when you ask for more when you ask for more
Well here you go..."baby" here you go.

I don't know where you will be seeing me once I'm gone. No need say goodbyex2
Just remember that I was never here in this town."
Refrain from calling me while your still breathing.
Sustain your failing mind and leave me be.
