I found
I found you on the ground with the sun in your eyes and all the people gone
If you are all alone today know I
I will follow you 'til the end

So cry if you want to
Try but the world won't love you

If you can be sad then you can be anything
And when hope's not enough then hope's just an enemy
All eyes upon you today
All I can do is hope and pray

So cry if you want to Try but the world won't want you

So cry if you want to
Try but the world won't love you

Cry if you want to Try but the world won't love you
