Her love is too much for my heart, she burned me out, I felt to protect myself from her smile;
so divine...

And I'd like to save her but I think it's too hard, too hard for her
and for me.

And she makes me feel, my heart is creeping inside. Together we can see all incompleteness on a different way.

she keeps on staring straight and true, it makes me weak... I felt to protect myself from her eyes too divine.
And I'd like to save her, but I think
it's too hard, too hard for her
and for me.
