I woke up this morning without you in my bed

A note on the table said goodbye and take care

Yeah I got a little crazy

But it could have been worse

I guess I'm alright

It could have been worse

I must have got luck on my side

Worse than it ends this time

As long as I breathe

Nothing gets me

Immortal as long as I live

A bang on the door I wondered who that could be

The postmen delivering a court order for me

Yeah I got a little crazy

It could have been worse

I guess I'm alright

It could have been worse

I must have got luck on my side

Worse than it ended this time

As long as I breathe

Nothing gets me

Immortal as long as I live

I could be like those lonely people on those television shows

A sceptic and no where to go

Searching for a meaning in this lonely lonely town

Laughing like a crying clown

The A&R on the phone the record's washed out

Again no chart entry when that's all it's about

Yeah I get a little crazy

Yeah I get a little crazy

It could have been worse

I guess I'm alright

It could have been worse

I must have got luck on my side

Worse than it ends this time

As long as I breathe

Nothing gets me

Immortal as long as I live

Like those lonely lonely people

In this lonely lonely town

Laughing on the wrong side of my mouth
