Sitting here with you tonight
Looking through these crying eyes
You and I both realize it's over
There's nothing left fighting for
We can't do this anymore
The bags are packed there by the door it's over

Chorus

Cause I've given everything I had to give to you
We'd find ways to put it off another day
Too afraid to face the bitter truth
But tomorrow's now become today
And all that's left to do is walk away

Well the love we had left ago
Cause my heart says I told you so
So how are we the last to know it's over
Has it all been a waste of time
I don't know but I know I'm Willing to admit it's finally over

Chorus

I don't know who I am without you
Where do I go what do I do
Chorus
