What happens now? When everything is said and done
You have stopped and cut the lines
I think now you don't wanna be mine
What happens now? The road is leading somewhere else
Now I see a different face
And I thank you all for these

I have learned a lot, and I think I know
You have made me stronger, than before

Chorus:

All of my life, I needed you by my side
We have been through all the rain and storm
And I think I face it all...
All of my life, I wanted you by my side
But this time I have to let you go
Even if I love you still

What happens now? When everything is said and done
There's nothing left for me to say

I have learned a lot, and I think I know
You have made me stronger, than before

Chorus:

All of my life, I needed you by my side
We have been through all the rain and storm
And I think I face it all...
All of my life, I wanted you by my side
But this time I have to let you go
Even if I love you still

Can't we turn back time and start all over again...
But these words just fall down on the ground...
Blown by the wind and faded away

Chorus:

All of my life, I needed you by my side
We have been through all the rain and storm
And I think I face it all...
All of my life, I wanted you by my side

But this time I have to let you go
Even if I love you still

Even if I love you still.
