There comes a time
In the life of every fire
When the flame burns low
It's just like a high
That can't get any higher
Well, it's got nowhere to go

Yeah, but when you kiss me that way
Then I know I'm alright
I go right to a place
Where our fire burns so bright
Baby, I must admit
You got power in those lips
To make everything okay
When you kiss me that way

Sometimes we'll argue
And sometimes we fight
'Bout the smallest of things
Both of us wrong
Baby, both of us right
But still nobody to blame

Yeah, but when you kiss me that way
Then I know I'm alright
I go right to a place
Where our fire burns so bright
Baby, I must admit
You got power in those lips
To make everything okay
When you kiss me that way

I wanna look in your eyes
So don't close 'em
Girl I want to feel every beat of your heart
So, give me both of them hands
Let me hold 'em
Cause I'll hold 'em
So nothin' can tear us apart

Yeah, but when you kiss me that way

Then I know I'm alright
I go right to a place
Where our fire burns so bright
Baby, I must admit
You got power in those lips
To make everything okay
You make everything okay
You make everything okay
When you kiss me that way
When you kiss me that way
