The Winter's gone and the spring has come
We've withered away
Our hearts are torn from the yesterdays

I'm singing my blues
I'm used to the tears, the doubt and the fears That hold me oh
I'm singing my blues
I hope you can see
I'm loosing my grip on you oh oh

We're looking up into the same old sky except that you and I
Are further from the place we used to love
I am leaving you with just a word
Yea It's selfish girl
But I have never been that good with words
Oh this could be the end of our dream
No one can help me
Maybe this is our final scence
Watch the curtain closing drop down low to bad now I've got nothing to show

The moment I met you this I Know
I'd always Let my loving show
But I have lost my way into the blue
And when I close my eyes I pray we'll see it through

I wish that I could feel my cold heart But We're so far apart, just like the ocean that's between our love
Your type of love is like a trauma
When all is said and done
Ill dry my tears and think of what we were My apathy is all I've got for now
Nothing gonna hold me down
I cant take your complicated run around
And I don't care if you ain't there for me now
Cause I got a new sound
People come and go like downtown

And when the night has come and were underneath the stars
Thinking what went wrong
Falling asleep alone, but you always know that even in my dreams I sing this song....
