

Facing New York

"Facing New York - Roman Son"

Visit "Facing New York - Roman Son" on MotoLyrics.com

Turn the engine off (flip it into neutral)
barrelling down duncan hill leading to a tunnel (like a laughing tiger) swallowing the night and daylight which keeps us alive
keep your car in drive

[chorus:]
yeah did you throw it away now? i tried to stop you
but did you go your own way now?

and at the tunnel's end (you will find a clearing) beneath the mountains open wide where we'll live like sheep very well fed
and well trained to walk in single file walk for miles and miles

[chorus]

i don't remember how we got to where we are
i don't remember how we got to where we are (must have blacked out how'd we get this far?) and i don't remember how we got to where we are

Visit Facing New York page on MotoLyrics.com, to get more lyrics and videos.