Oh the clock on the wall is a fine clock
Chasing the minutes in a climb
And the clock on the wall is a fine clock
Why can't I just roll back the time
Why can't I just roll back the time
Sweet Mary I thought you'd been faithful and true
I guess not.
You gave me the business while I sat there grinning...
Thanks a lot.
And you have sold me a ticket of tears for a while
A train load of anger that boils up to danger in a pile
And the clock on the wall is a fine clock
Chasing the minutes in a climb
And the clock on the wall is a fine clock
Why can't I just roll back the time
Why can't I just roll back the time
All I ever wanted from you was some peace of mind
But clocks don't tick backward
And you just don't run on being kind
And clock on the wall is a fine clock
Clock on the wall is a fine clock
