Beside me now are strangers to my eyes
They might be getting crazy might be wise
Were stranded either way
In such a lonely place
Im looking out for you
Among the flies that wait in line for days on end
And nights so cold and always so intense
I try to reach the top most every day
In hope I turn my face up to the sky
The cover hangs so low
I see no sign of life
Nothing springs to mind
Among the flies that wait in line
For days on end and nights so cold it's always so intense
And here we are there's a smile between us and it's going on
You and me have always gotten through Anyone can tell you that it's true
You feel it every time you drive away from home
The headlights hypnotise and they take you off towards the sea
Into the night you run away with thoughts you cannot hide
Vacant eyes can't describe my hunger
For your billowing arms
Mother I can't help thinking of you Take this dull ache away
