Remember who we are, supple and new
If I lose my way you'd tell me the truth for all it's worth
Lifting up your hand, show me my rescue

What I said, truth is worth more than pride
Truth is worth more than pride

Everything you do continues long after you've gone
Circle overhead, view from the bed, so high and lonely
Sixteen times a day, he comes to ground
To get some attention

'Cause what I said, truth is worth more than pride
Truth, it cannot be denied
Truth is worth more than pride

They have showered me with riches
And they say that I am worthy of their love
And their attention but they still don't know the truth

Everything you do continues long after you've gone

What I said, truth is worth more than pride
Truth cannot be denied
Truth is worth more than pride

View from the bed, so high and lonely
So high and lonely
Truth is worth more than pride, hey hey

View from the bed, so high and lonely
So high and lonely
View from the bed, so high
