Baby crossed an ocean just to see what she could see Half the world beneath her feet, a rose between her teeth

Spent her lifetime loving, spent her lifetime living fine
But since you broke her heart, yeah, she needs a little time

A little time, a little time

Before we were old mem'ries and I guessed that we'd be fine

Shooting stars still break her heart and sunsets make her cry

Watch the birds fly over head, you can catch them if you try

Watch the planes fly over head, you can catch them if you try

If you try, if you try

Two stones in my pocket girl, I keep them for my dreams

I give 'em both to you now cause you need them more than me

Your mother's arms will keep ya safe wherever you may be

Your mother's arms will keep ya safe however you may

You may be, you may be

Baby crossed an ocean just to see what she could see
Half the world beneath her feet, a rose between her

Spent her lifetime loving, spent her lifetime living fine
time

A little time, a little time

dreams

I give 'em both to you now cause you need them more
than me

Your mother's arms will keep ya safe wherever you

may be
You may be, you may be, you may be
