Time marches on, mountains may turn to dust
The world outside may crumble and fall
This love that we share won't be touched by the hands
of time
It will last 'til the sands of time have withered away

Time marches on, oceans may disappear
But my love for you won't ever change
Though time may go, our love will grow
And last from day to day while time marches on
Our love is here to stay

Time marches on, mountains may turn to dust
The world outside may crumble and fall
of time
It will last 'til the sands of time have withered away

Time marches on, oceans may disappear
But my love for you won't ever change
Though time may go, our love will grow
And last from day to day while time marches on
Our love is here, our love is here to stay
