

Krystale "Smile To Sell"

Visit "Smile To Sell" on MotoLyrics.com

She's so plastic
Empty soul and empty smile
Knows that feeling all too well

She's so tragic
Give her pity all the while,
Still she has her smile to sell

There's nothing more to gain from this
A lack of meaning to possess
Bathing in her vanity
Craving the addiction
Another dose of sweet success

Look at me what do you see
Is this what you wanted me to be?
Look at me what do you see
As I'm flipping through this magazine and I realize
That's not me

She's so hungry starving til the bitter end
Only ten more pounds to go
And she's so ugly hanging on to last year's trend
Her time is done and we all know

There's nothing more to gain from this
A lack of meaning to possess
Bathing in her vanity
Craving the addiction
Another dose of sweet success

Look at me what do you see
Is this what you wanted me to be?
Look at me what do you see
As I'm flipping through this magazine and I realize
That's not me
