"Clouds"

Started with belief
Just a single spark of intuition, and everyone disagrees
And only "time" made them believe
They offered a helping hand to save
Like a devil's grin on an Angel's face

Slowly chase me away
When I'm tempted to complain
Under these "clouds" that drop no rain on me
Inside a burning sun
Still the garden has begun
Oh I know your the only one
That finishes dreams

You're the only one
You're the only one

So however long it takes
They could'nt flatter me from these intentions
They never belonged to me
I was only following that fate
Knowing there's something up ahead
Although no one else could see

Slowly chase me away
When I'm tempted to complain
Under these "clouds" that drop no rain on me
Inside a burning sun
Still the garden has begun
Oh I know your the only one
That finishes dreams

You
You're the only one
You
I know You're the only one

You're the only one
You're the only one
You're the only one
