I'm hearing the stories told of every troubled day
I'm wishing for another tale to come and take it's place

I'm just floating along
And trying to cope
With all of these stacks of paragraphs that have no
Hope,...

So I'm taking all your words
No eyes have seen no ears have heard
No time so, I trust you
I'm feeling like the light is on
And all these doubts, ...
They'll soon be gone

All the doubts, they'll soon be gone,

Gone,...

You're setting a course for me
The path you placed me on
The future's a friend of mine
The past points at all my "wrongs"

I see the Horizon
And I'm digging my heals in this time
And keep on striving
For the words that let in light

So I'm taking all your words
No eyes have seen no ears have heard
No time so, I trust you
I'm feeling like the light is on
And all these doubts
They'll soon be gone

I'm finding all the words
That I, that I,
That I always have needed
I'm finding all the words
That I, That I,
That I always have needed now

So I'm taking all your words
No eyes have seen, no ears have heard
No time so, I trust you
I'm feeling like the light is on
And all these doubts
They'll soon be gone
