There's a light inside of you,
Hope it's nothing but the truth,
I just want to be with you.

There's a cloud above our heads,
Predicting stormy times ahead,
I don't want to know the truth.

Everything always feels like something special when
I'm with you,
Everything always makes me lose the truth when I'm
with you.

I'm falling faster than the speed of sound,
I'm falling further and further towards the ground.
I'm falling faster than the speed of light,
Nothing is wrong but nothing is right.

There's a corner in my mind,
That keeps me consigned,
To the facts.

A drop of rain begins to fall,
And I still think I've got it all,
But I know he won't call.

Everything always feels like something special when
I'm with you,
Everything always makes me lose the truth when I'm
with you.

I'm falling faster than the speed of sound,
I'm falling further and further towards the ground.
I'm falling faster than the speed of light,
Nothing is wrong but nothing is right.

I'm falling, we're falling, I'm falling for you.
I'm falling, we're falling, and I don't want to know the truth.

There's a light inside of you,
Hope it's nothing but the truth,

I just want to be with you.

There's a cloud above our heads,
Predicting stormy times ahead,
I don't want to know the truth.

Everything always feels like something special when
I'm with you,
Everything always makes me lose the truth when I'm
with you.

I'm falling faster than the speed of sound,
I'm falling further and further towards the ground.
I'm falling faster than the speed of light,
Nothing is wrong but nothing is right.
