They say the eye of the hurricane's, the calmest part,
But everyday now, it feels like we're falling apart,
Yelling and screaming, Throughout the house,
Hurricane's coming, so you better get out,

CHORUS

You left me dying there, crying there, sitting on the floor,
It's just an empty place, and empty space, your not
here anymore,
Stronger than the wind blows, I can't ever let go,
I won't be taken, by this Hurricane...

The rain falls faster, now,
Clouds of gray, Moving in,
But still I cry and cry, and cry,
I just can't hold up against this wind...

CHORUS

You left me dying there, crying there, sitting on the
floor,
It's just an empty place, and empty space, your not
here anymore,
Stronger than the wind blows, I can't ever let go,
I won't be taken, by this Hurricane...

They say the eye of the hurricane's...
The strongest part...
