And, I've been awake just a while,
Oh, I'm keeping my attention to you.
Lately you've been trying to ignore,
My presence of a lover in disguise.

A broken glass,
A broken heart on fire.
Oh, but someday you'll be better off with me.

Will you stay for a while just to see?
Will you stop and think of me?
Will you believe me when I say I've been trying to be better then I was?
Will you stay for a while just to hear, this song I wrote
just for you and me?
And I'm hoping that'll remind you of the time we spent all alone.

You kept me awake with you hands to my neck.
I'm catching my breathe just to show you I care.
I've waited for days with you're smile still in tact,
Because your teeth shine right through me.
We'll sing woah.
With your hands on my neck.

You kept me awake with you hands to my neck.
I'm catching my breathe just to show you I care.
I've waited for days with you're smile still in tact,
Because your teeth shine right through me.

Will stay for a while just to see?
Will you stop and think of me?
Will you believe me when I say I've been trying to be better then I was?
