Disillusioned demons bleed by alien illness,
The nuked surface of earth transmutes into abnormal masses of festered flesh rising to fortell vengeance, While demonoid terminations are tacking down remaining souls of lost warriors, Life on this planet is now in the hands of the ruler of shadows
See the Devil smile

Heathen thoughts burning in my head Creeps of darkness drink my bloody sweat Wicked women trapped in black and grey While bleeding demons carry me away

Laughing at the way the woodworlds skimming through their painless night
Live life full until the bitter end and walk the wired side high Credits from your better days might even buy you extra time
My life is over now so everybody dies

Give a damn about life I'm born wild Gonna reach the sky for a while Give a damn about style born wild
Not afraid to die 'cause I've seen the devil smile

Naked dwarfs multiply with rats Crippled corpse kissed by vampire bats
Iron breezes rolling in a spind
Unborn diseases spread out with wind

Out of nowhere rolls a thunder from an empty sky Nothing really makes me wonder death ain't hard to justify
I have tasted lips of glory in those years I left behind
But my life is over now so everybody dies

Give a damn about life I'm born wild...
