Words said beyond repair
Now you're punishing me
Your true face shown in despair
We are just too different, why can't you see?
What do you want me to say?
You've turned out to be jeezebel
You curse at me yet you want me to stay
One minute an angel, the next a bitch from hell

Once we were lovers, then love turned into hate
You became my enemy
From being my friend, my world, my soul-mate
Once we were together, sharing thoughts, goals, &
mind
Now miles apart in different worlds
We'll have to let go and leave it behind

We cannot change fate
We are like night and day
You set me up but I won't take the bait
If you can't have it your way, you want me to pay
Your little games are not okay
You can't force what was not meant to be
If you push me to live and be your own way
You might as well lock me up and throw away the goddamn key

Once we were lovers, then love turned into hate
You became my enemy
Once we were together, sharing thoughts, goals, &
mind
Now miles apart in different worlds
We'll have to let go and leave it behind

The power of sanity compels you, evil be gone
In the name of the mother, the daughter
And the holy spiritus, evil be gone

Once we were lovers, then love turned into hate
You became my enemy

From being my friend, my world, my soul-mate
Once we were together, sharing thoughts, goals, &
mind
Now miles apart in different worlds
We'll have to let go and leave it behind
