Sleepwalker with a gun

Just like everybody else, each night you fall asleep
But unlike them, you a gun, under your pillow keep Eager to protect your own, you're blind to reality
Creating your own nightmares of gore and agony

Rockabye baby, the cradle will rock
Even if somebody woke you up
I doubt that that would make you stop
Your killing spree has only just begun

Sleepwalker with a gun

In the name of Santa Claus, you mislead the ones that trust
You're driven by the appetite for the power and bloodlust
Undisturbed you carry on, your walk down lullaby lane
Leaving behind a trail of death, grief, blood, and pain

Rockabye baby, the cradle will fall
Even if somebody woke you up
I doubt that that would make you stop
Your killing spree has only just begun
