I can't lift my eyes above the clouds,
Stones fall around me and I can't get up
You don't know what to say
When the tears seem to be my only way
So try little harder
There's another side to see

And I let myself down...
And I let myself down

Make it better
Make it matter
If you follow every sign you see
You just get lost
Make it easier
Make it safer
I have fallen down in heaven
And there's nothing I can do to change

I know that it's true
This will pass too
But when will the stars
Come shining through
I can hear the birds sing
I can see the lovers laugh
I can smell the flowers grow
But I can't feel, now it's all gone
And the rainbows turned to rain

And I let all of you down
And I let all of you down
