I am so sorry, goodbye all my friends
I won't even try to make my amends.
The Kingdom has come, you've all turned to stone
And all of my demons have followed me home.

All the stars in the sky
were exploding before my eyes
And I though I saw you before.

The time has come black is the Sun,
I will devour everyone
And I though I saw you before.

'Cause everytime we fall,
I pray down on my knees,
'Cause I could have it all

From the monster that's in me.

You've helped yourself to my whole world;
I never thought I'd feel so cold.
And I though I saw you before.

The time has come black is the Sun,
I will devour everyone
And I though I saw you before.

I am so sorry, goodbye all my friends
I won't even try to make my amends.
The Kingdom has come, you've all turned to stone
And all of my demons have followed me home.
