What would make you understand
That I do the best I can,
For you.
Our life was shining in the darkest of rooms
And you said nothing what could I do?

The cards are in your hands
You ignore them for sure.
It was your call you had no excuse,
For it.
What do I think of you
I don't really know
The safe is empty since you typed in the code.

[CHORUS]

What's the reason for everything you do
You make me think but I haven't got a clue
My eyes are open but I only see what you,
Put right in front of me.
Put right in front of me.

Stop making rules to a game I don't play
What's it to you but a word, in a song.
Jeep pouring water down the drain and watch it go
Flush out the black and white just let your colors show

What is the reason for everything you do
You make me think but I haven't got a clue
My eyes are open but I only see what you,
Put right in front of me, put right in from of me.

What is the reason for everything you do,
You make me think but I haven't got a clue
My eyes are open but I only see what you,
Put right in front of me
Put right in front of me
Put right in front of me
Put right in front of me
Put right in front of me
Put right in front of me
Put right in front of me
