Snowfall on the tree tops, the streets are bad
Bright lights in the windows and up the stairs
And all of your silence, all of your songs
I still hear the choir but you walk on

Can't go like
Can't find this
Water, water
Teardrops falling like rain
Donna, Donna
Still I hear you calling my name
I see your light
In a moment for all my life

Walking on a tight rope, we're coming undone
Cause you were my hero when I was your home
We live for we never know, lost in the wind
A million candles just flickering

Can't go like
Can't find this
Water, water
Teardrops falling like rain
Donna, Donna
Still I hear you calling my name
I see your light
In a moment for all my life

Oh oh lift it high, let me lay down at your side
Here I stay til your soul comes back to mine

Water, water
Teardrops falling like rain
Donna, Donna
Still I hear you calling my name
I see your light
In a moment for all my life
