The rain falls down, and it hits the ground
I see him smile, and it makes me angry
If you could only see, just what you mean to me
Then things will be the way they should be

Turn back without a word, and you don't see me...

I'd love to beat that smile off his face
And run away with you, hand-in-hand
I can't pronounce his name
But all the shit he puts you through makes me sick
All I wanna do is be with you

I sit outside and spend my time
Just staring up at your window,
All my thoughts start racing through my mind
I start to give up hope
When all you do is turn your back,
It breaks my heart to see you when your crying...

Turn back without a word, and you don't see me...

I'd love to beat that smile off his face
And run away with you, hand-in-hand
I can't pronounce his name
But all the shit he puts you through makes me sick
All I wanna do is be with you

Make the pain stop, I'm bleeding....
Without you there's nothing else in my life
You fall in love, then break your heart
All I wanna do is make you happy...

I'd love to beat that smile off his face
And run away with you, hand-in-hand
I can't pronounce his name
But all the shit he puts you through makes me sick
All I wanna do is be with you
