I heard a crash/and then the lights went black/
i saw you running/coming 'round the house/out of the back/we threw up the windows/and we tried to let the smoke clear out/had one foot out the door/to make it out this fucking town/

stumble threw the front door/broken locks/and we both wind up on the floor/cry out loud and say we hope that jesus saves/
so when the sun comes up we'll pull down the shades/
break out the shovels/and start digging our own
graves/

our own graves/

if youve got the light/ive got the cigarettes/
i needed something more/to stop this spinning head/youre the last drink/that i knew i shouldnt have/kept one foot on the floor/ to stop this spinning bed again/

chorus
so when the sun comes up we'll pull down the shades/
break out the shovels/and start digging our own
graves/
our own graves
