In my dreams I see the truth, cause the dreams are lieproof
I rely only on my dreams now, the rest is all lie
Mask the face, if you can't backspace the damn mistakes.
He simply fakes, when he needs some privacy and space.

You're the reason why I lose my trust to people.
You're the reason I console myself with dreams.

Dreamscapes are my escape from the lies
Dreamscapes are my escape!
Dreamscapes are my escape from the world.
Don't you scorn them! Don't you scorn the things you don't understand!

There's a room inside my mind where I can think aloud
and enshrined.
Well-designed to clear the mind, and see the facts of life sad and unkind Life is a mess, and life is a test, never falling is not the major success
But rising every time we fall. The lighter side of your wearing me down:

Thanks to you I've turned inward to myself, thus so many things I've learned.
More real than the real world, much more genuine in every word.

Dreamscapes are my escape from the lies
Dreamscapes are my escape!
Dreamscapes are my escape from the world.
Don't you scorn them! Don't you scorn the things you don't understand!
